Introduction

This EYFS Policy for Little Crickets school aligns with the Statutory Framework for Early Years, September 2023. It provides a comprehensive view of the school's Early Years Foundation Stage provision, emphasizing the significance of early childhood education and care. As stated in the framework; "Every child deserves the best possible start in life and the support that enables them to fulfil their potential. Children develop quickly in the early years, and a child's experiences between birth and age five have a major impact on their future life chances." Meeting the individual needs of all children lies at the heart of the Early Years Foundation Stage.

At Little Crickets we deliver personalised learning, development and care to help children get the best possible start to life.

Guiding Principles

While we are exempt from the Learning, Development, and Assessment requirements of the Statutory Framework for Early Years, September 2023, we adhere to the following guiding principles:

- Every child is a unique individual, constantly learning and capable of resilience, confidence, and self-assuredness.
- Positive relationships with caring adults foster children's independence.
- Enabling environments tailored to individual needs, with strong practitioner-parent partnerships, support children's development.
- Acknowledging that children learn and develop at varying rates, including those with special educational needs and disabilities.

Implementation of EYFS Principles

In line with EYFS principles, at Little Crickets, we:

- Adopt a key person approach, promoting close relationships with individual children.
- Provide a secure and safe learning environment, both indoors and outdoors.
- Offer a balanced curriculum which reflects the school's aims and ethos, providing a stimulating and enjoyable education that fosters curiosity, independent thinking, imagination and creativity
- Plan challenging and enjoyable learning experiences based on each child's unique needs, informed by observation, assessment, and the child's interests.
- Encourage children to engage in activities initiated by both adults and children.

- Work in partnership with parents and within the wider community.
- Cultivate a thoughtful attitude in pupils towards their immediate and wider environment.
- Promote equality of opportunity and anti-discriminatory practice, ensuring the inclusion and support of every pupil.

The Early Years Curriculum

We design an engaging and challenging curriculum by focusing on the Prime and Specific Areas of learning from the Statutory Framework for Early Years. This curriculum is continually reviewed and enhanced based on our observations of the children's needs, interests, and stages of development. The statutory early learning goals are organised into seven areas of learning and establish expectations for most children to reach by the end of the EYFS.

Prime Areas of Learning:

Personal, Social, and Emotional Development involves helping children to develop a positive sense of themselves, and others; to form positive relationships and develop respect for others; to develop social skills and learn how to manage their feelings; to understand appropriate behaviour in groups; and to have confidence in their own abilities.

Physical Development involves providing opportunities for young children to be active and interactive; and to develop their co-ordination, control, and movement. Children must also be helped to understand the importance of physical activity, and to make healthy choices in relation to food.

Communication and Language involves giving children opportunities to experience a rich language environment; to develop their confidence and skills in expressing themselves; and to speak and listen in a range of situations.

Specific Areas of Learning:

Literacy development involves encouraging children to link sounds and letters and to begin to read and write. Children must be given access to a wide range of reading materials (books, poems, and other written materials) to ignite their interest.

Mathematics involves providing children with opportunities to develop and improve their skills in counting, understanding and using numbers, calculating simple addition and subtraction problems; and to describe shapes, spaces, and measures.

Understanding the World involves guiding children to make sense of their physical world and their community through opportunities to explore, observe and find out about people, places, technology and the environment.

Expressive Arts and Design involves enabling children to explore and play with a wide range of media and materials, as well as providing opportunities and encouragement for sharing their thoughts, ideas and feelings through a variety of activities in art, music, movement, dance, role-play, and design and technology.

Each Area combines both adult-led and child-initiated learning, allowing for whole group and small group teaching. Whole-class input increases as pupils progress through Reception, preparing them for a more formal learning environment in Year 1.

The Characteristics of Effective Learning

The Characteristics of Effective Learning are an integral part of our educational approach, guiding us in tailoring our teaching methods to meet the unique needs and interests of each child. We believe that by nurturing these characteristics, we set our children on a path towards becoming enthusiastic, lifelong learners who are not afraid to explore, experiment, and think critically.

Exploration and Play

- Investigating and Discovering: Children are natural explorers from birth, driven by a profound curiosity about their world. We encourage them to investigate and experience, fostering an environment where their innate sense of wonder can thrive.
- Engaging with What They Know: Children love to play with what they know. We believe in building upon their existing knowledge and experiences to spark their enthusiasm for learning.
- Willingness to Experiment: At this stage, we embrace a culture of "having a go." We celebrate experimentation and understand that learning often involves making mistakes and learning from them.

Active Learning

- Persistence: We cultivate a mindset of persistence, teaching children to keep trying even when they encounter difficulties. Through this characteristic, we instil the value of resilience and determination.
- Engagement and Concentration: Active learning hinges on a child's motivation and their ability to concentrate on tasks. We create stimulating environments that keep children engaged, excited, and focused on their learning journey.

- Celebrating Achievements: In the EYFS, we believe in celebrating every achievement, both big and small. We understand that every step towards a goal is significant, and we encourage children to take pride in their accomplishments.

Creating and Thinking Critically

- Developing Unique Ideas: We promote the development of individual ideas and encourage children to express their creativity. Our girls are empowered to think outside the box and innovate.
- Establishing Connections: We emphasize the importance of making connections between ideas and concepts. Children are encouraged to think critically and develop a deep understanding of the world by recognizing relationships and patterns.
- Exploring Diverse Approaches: We provide children with diverse opportunities to approach tasks and problems. Through various forms of play, including role-play, construction, and artistic activities, they can explore alternative approaches to different situations.

Play

Play underpins all development and learning for young children. It is through play that they develop intellectually, creatively, physically, socially and emotionally. The skills children develop through play help them to thrive long after their school days and empower them to become lifelong creative learners. Much research examines children's response to various aspects of play, with five factors emerging prominently: children excel in learning when play is meaningful, joyful, iterative, and involves social interaction and active engagement. Providing thoughtfully planned experiences centred on children's spontaneous play, both indoors and outdoors, is an important way in which our teaching staff support girls to learn with enjoyment and challenge. Children independently access the Early Years' environment's continuous provision, taking the lead in their learning.

Children are active participants in their own learning, and their surroundings play a pivotal role in facilitating their growth and development. Our Nursery and Reception classrooms encourage independent and collaborative exploration. Children learn to care for their environment and manage their resources, deepening their understanding of their individual and collective impact and the importance of sustainability. The space is designed to be adaptable and to provide our girls with a stimulating, engaging, and supportive space where they can develop their skills and understanding. Skilled and attentive adult interaction is a crucial component of a rich learning environment. Teachers are responsive to children's interests and needs, supporting their learning through observation, scaffolding, and facilitating learning experiences.

Inclusion

We value all our pupils as individuals, irrespective of their backgrounds, abilities, or cultural diversity. We provide support and additional resources for those with special educational needs and create an inclusive, diverse learning environment. The Early Years team work closely with the school's SENCO to facilitate early identification and intervention and ensure provision is appropriate. We celebrate and respect cultural and linguistic diversity among our pupils.

Observation and Assessment

We use ongoing observational assessment to track pupils' progress, understand their needs, and tailor activities and targeted support. Pupils are assessed via the school's Baseline in September or within the first 6 weeks of arrival at the setting and at the end of each half term in all 7 strands of learning. A PTS Maths assessment at the end of the Reception year enables us to weigh progress and facilitates a smooth transition to Year 1.

Meetings are held to discuss judgments, set targets, and implement intervention as needed. In addition, a progress report is provided in October, and April. A formal report is provided in December and at the end of the academic year covering the Prime and Specific Areas and the Characteristics of Effective Learning.

The Key Person

Our approach fully endorses the requirements of the Statutory Framework 2024 Paragraph 3.35 A key person is:

- a named member of staff who has more contact than others with the child
- someone to build relationships with the child and parents
- someone who helps the child become familiar with the Nursery and or Reception class
- someone who meets children's individual needs and care needs (e.g. dressing, toileting etc)
- someone who responds sensitively to children's feelings, ideas and behaviour
- the person who acts as point of contact with parents

At Argyle House School the size of our Nursery, Pre-School and Reception classes are such that members of staff work together as a close team with good opportunities for children to experience consistent interactions and expectations from all staff. The key person in Reception is the class teacher, who is ultimately responsible for the care, welfare, learning and development in that area. Due to the size of the setting, all staff in Nursery and Pre-School have equal responsibility for all children with regards to the key person definition above. Throughout the day, including lunchtime and times of transition, there is always a member of staff with whom the children are very familiar.

The Key Person is the main point of contact for both parents and children. However, it is recognised that there may be times when the first point of contact may be a nursery or teaching assistant who will also know the child well. On these occasions, significant interactions will be shared with the Key Person to ensure the principles of good practice and enable the Key Person to respond to the needs of the child and/or parent appropriately.

All key people will ensure good information sharing with parents, acknowledging the important role that parents play in supporting the learning and development of their children. The Key People, supported by nursery and teaching assistants, will observe and interact with the children at play and during focused activities regularly. The information will be analysed to both increase the understanding of the individual child and also to provide evidence for the records of the children's developmental progress.

The Key People for children in Pre-School and Reception will meet formally with parents on two occasions during the year, to discuss their child's progress and next steps and at other occasions on request. The key person also provides a progress report in October and April and a formal written report covering the seven areas of learning in December and July.

Parents and/or carers are advised about our Key Person approach as part of the Class information Pack at their child's point of entry to our Early Years department and this is discussed with them and is shown on posters around the setting.

Transitions

A high-quality Early Years' experience provides a firm foundation on which to build future academic, social and emotional success. Key to this is ensuring continuity between all year groups and that children's social, emotional and educational needs are addressed appropriately. Transition is seen as a process, not an event, and is carefully planned for and discussed with children, parents and Year 1 teachers. At Little Cricket's we communicate information which will secure continuity of experience for the child between Year Groups in EYFS profile moderation meetings.

Year 1 teachers are familiar with the EYFS and likewise EYFS teachers are familiar with the KS1 curriculum. Recognizing the importance of a smooth transition from nursery to reception, we are committed to providing a series of opportunities for new children and their parents to familiarize themselves with the Early Years team and setting before the official start of the school year.

Understanding that starting school is a significant step for both children and parents, we aim to establish a strong foundation of trust and communication from the outset. Our transition initiatives include:

Pre-Reception End of Spring Term/Summer Term

- Starting School Discussion – This meeting is a cornerstone in building the partnership between parents and the school. Led by our experienced Early Years teachers, the discussion covers essential topics such as settling in, the daily routine in Reception, the curriculum, how to support learning at home, and how to address any concerns or questions parents might have
- Information Pack – A resource for parents with detailed information about the school day, uniform requirements, school policies, and tips on preparing their child for school.

Beginning of the Reception

Reduced Anxiety: Starting school can be overwhelming for young children and some will find it more challenging than others

Smooth Transition: It gives children the chance to get used to the new routines, environment, and expectations in a more manageable way. They can gradually adapt without feeling overwhelmed, rushed, or pressured.

Peer Relationships: Children can begin forming friendships in smaller groups, which can be less intimidating and promote better social interactions.

Parent-Teacher Interaction: Parents also have an opportunity to interact with teachers and discuss any concerns or needs their child may have. This helps in building a strong home-school connection from the start.

Observation and Assessment: Teachers can observe and assess each child's developmental stage more accurately, helping them to tailor their teaching strategies and support to each child's needs from the outset. During the afternoons, teachers carry out Reception baseline assessments which inform our planning and decision-making for the splitting of the cohort into two form classes.

Throughout the Reception Year

Adjustment takes time and our Early Years team provides ongoing support to children and parents throughout the first year.

- Regular updates on children's progress, informal catch-ups at drop-off and pick-up times, and scheduled parent-teacher meetings ensure a continuous dialogue and support network.
- Workshops aimed at equipping parents with strategies to support their child's learning and emotional well-being at home.

- Fostering a sense of belonging and community, new Reception children are given 2 Year 6 pupils who act as buddies. These buddies help the younger children navigate the school day, model positive behaviour, and offer friendship during this new chapter.

From Reception to Year 1

Similarly, the move from Reception to Year 1 is handled with utmost care. The EYFS and Year 1 teacher collaborate to support a smooth transition. In the Summer term of the Reception school year there will be;

- Regular involvement of the Year 1 team in Reception –playground supervision, assemblies with the Year 1 teacher is an important part of the Summer Term timetable. This will lay the foundation for positive relationships and enhance children's readiness for Year 1.

- A joint Reception and Year 1, Year 2 trip – This allows Reception children moving up to Year 1 to experience a shared educational outing and to become familiar with Year 1 routines, expectations.
- A Transition Day when they can meet their new class teacher. In their new classroom, girls will enjoy taking part in 'Getting to know you' games, arts and craft activities giving them a sense of life in Year 1.

Partnership

We value strong, caring, and professional relationships with pupils and their families. We encourage parents to actively participate in their child's education at home and at school. Parents are asked to regularly read with their child during the school week. We work with external services and organizations to meet the needs of our pupils. Visitors and parents are encouraged to come into the classroom as much as possible to share their enthusiasm and expertise.

School Trips

The EYFS children go on at least three school trips linked to our learning across the year. We ensure that we adhere to an age related ratio.

Safeguarding and Welfare

The safeguarding and welfare of our pupils are paramount. The Head of EYFS is the Designated Safeguarding Lead and we have stringent policies, procedures, and measures in place to ensure the children's safety and well-being. Pupils are taught and supported to make safe choices, assess risks, and protect themselves. We comply with all regulatory requirements related to safeguarding and welfare. The EYFS adheres to the school's Health and Safety Policy.
